

CITY NEWS.

Kirk Hoffman transacted legal business in Dayton Friday.

Eleven prisoners are confined in the county jail at present.

Mrs. Vernon Craig has returned from a visit in Dayton.

Thousands of pounds of tobacco were taken in here yesterday.

Misses Bee Duffey and Lottie Leas were in Cincinnati Saturday.

W. Y. Stubbs was in Troy the first of this week on legal business.

Some snow fell here yesterday, but not sufficient to afford good sleighing.

Miss Bonnie Wills has for her guest Miss Bernice Mirandy of Portland, Ind.

John Ferron and bride left for their future home at Montvale, Virginia, Saturday.

A baby boy was born on last Thursday morning to George A. Katzenberger and wife.

Rev. Seward of Covington has been secured as pastor of the Methodist church in this city.

Philip Stover, who moved west three years ago, locating in Washington, is back on a visit among friends and relatives.

J. H. Koester was called to New Orleans this week owing to the serious illness of his son William, who is a tuberculosis sufferer.

Commissioner T. L. Brewer of this city was elected secretary of the State Association of County Commissioners at their meeting last week.

County Clerk George York says he intends starting a suit to test the validity of the law changing the term of his office from three to two years.

The Misses Sara and Virginia Larimer left last week for Effingham, Ill., to take a course of study in the Bissel College of Photography.

Wm. Gaskill, aged 24 years, a son of the late Frank Gaskill, died of consumption Sunday afternoon at Dodge City, Kan., he being enroute home from New Mexico, where he had recently gone in hopes of being benefited. His remains were brought to this city for interment.

Harry Little, who was injured a few days ago in a rear-end collision at Franklin, is said to have taken a turn for the worse this week and now his recovery is very doubtful. His broken leg will have to be amputated, but he has been in too weakened a condition since Saturday to undergo the operation.

Possesses wonderful medicinal power over the human body, removing all disorders from your system, is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Makes you well, keeps you well. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wm. Kipp's Sons.

Mrs. Catharine Hartman died last Sunday evening of gangrene poisoning at her home on Washington avenue, aged 72 years. Mrs. Hartman was born in Ireland and has resided in this county over forty years. She is survived by six sons, two daughters and a sister, her husband having preceded her in death several years ago. Funeral services were held yesterday morning from the Catholic church, interment in Greenville cemetery.

Builds up waste tissue, promotes appetite, improves digestion, induces refreshing sleep, gives renewed strength and health. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea does. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wm. Kipp's Sons.

E. E. Craig, the balloonist, well known in this city and county, was probably fatally injured at Dunkirk, Ind., last Saturday. He had gone up about 150 feet in his balloon and cutting loose in his parachute, which failed to open, he struck the ground heavily, and is now laid up in the Portland hospital with six fractured ribs and an injured spine.

The Katzenberger, North and Bachman properties, corner Public Square and Main street, have been selected by the Treasury department as the site for the new government building. The properties were bought by a group of interested citizens and donated to the government, which will leave the full appropriation of $35,000 for the building alone.

The Journal's roll of honor for the past week consists of the following named patrons:

Joshua Jefferis,
John Eisele,
C. Eisele,
Aaron E. Horine,
Mrs. John Collins,
P. Carpenter,
J. H. Benner,
Isaac W. Edwards,
James Frost.

The grand jury, in session for three days last week, returned 12 indictments, ignoring two cases. Those made public are:

David Wions, for misrepresentation by married man, two counts.
Wm. Miller, Louis Couchot and Edward Carr, each for petit larceny.
Nick Varlan, obtaining money by false pretense.
Wm. Welch, burglarizing inhabited dwelling, two counts.
Frank Beam, adultery.

Wm. Welch, the hobo, who entered several dwellings a few days ago and stole a lot of eatables and drinkables, which he consumed, and who was indicted by the grand jury last week on a charge of burglarizing an inhabited dwelling, plead guilty in Judge Allread's court Monday morning, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. It was fully explained to him what the consequences of such a plea would be, but he persisted in making it, which, under the new law, left the judge no other recourse. The sentence didn't seem to phase him a particle and there has been no change in his demeanor since sentence was imposed. He is certainly an enigma.

The Charming Woman
is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin; beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at Wm. Kipp's Sons' drug store.

SENSE IN THE HOME.

Do Not Make Yourself a Slave to the Nonessentials.

"A certain woman had her drawing room so filled with bric-a-brac that it was only with the greatest caution that one could go about the room without displacing or injuring some piece of it. It was the constant care of this woman to add to, arrange and expel this collection, and her life was so absorbed in this occupation that she had no time for a needed kindness or to read a helpful book or to speak on enlightening subjects. She was a complete slave to the nonessentials.

"Of course the great reason why nonessentials should be eliminated is that the clearness of brain, the concentration of mind, the strength of heart and hand, that are essentials and make for essentials, are by them entirely hindered or rendered wholly or in part ineffective and inadequate for the task in hand—the making of a happy and successful life. The gardener who is master of his business prunes away many small tendrils from the tree that the life and sap and growing forces may not be diverted from the fruit producing branches. Many a bud or offshoot from the rose-bush is removed that thereby all the nourishment may be conserved to make the perfect blossom. What girl or boy brought up on a farm has not been set to 'thin out the best bed?' Too many plants, if allowed to grow in the bed, would have so exhausted the earth's nourishment as to have rendered the whole of the vegetables small and unsatisfactory.

"Whether life is to be a failure or a success depends very largely on whether we allow the nonessentials to choke and hinder and divert the soul forces or we cut them back, weed them out, allowing the nourishment to go to the perfection of the fruit, the consummate flower of a symmetrical soul."—Delineator.

ODD PINCUSHION.

Made From a Tea Strainer, Cretonne and Ribbons.

There are pin trays and pincushions of almost endless variety in both style and material, but about the oddest idea yet is that embodied in the accompanying illustration, which shows a pincushion made from a tea strainer lined with flowered cretonne, having a full ruffle of ribbon around the edge. The back of the strainer has the cretonne stretched across, and the wire netting in front makes an excellent holder for pins of all sizes. The wire netting may be decorated by hand painting in flower or other design.

A NOVEL PINCUSHION.

Cold Water Tea.

Every one in these days pleads guilty to a more or less restricted dietary, and one of the first items against which the medical authorities issue their edict is that of brewed tea—viz, that which has been allowed to stand for any length of time. For persons whose digestions are not as strong as they might be even a quickly made boiling infusion is considered to be injurious, and many doctors are nowadays prescribing a cold water decoction as the most innocuous form of tea which can be ventured upon. To make this the proportion of a heaped up teaspoonful of tea for each person to a pint of water should be placed in a jug. This is placed overnight in a cool place and covered with a saucer, while the next morning the liquid is strained off into a saucepan and heated for use. By this means any danger of imbibing tannin is obviated, while the flavor is in no way impaired, and sufficient may be made overnight to suffice for both breakfast and tea the following day.

About Expenses.

Young housekeepers so often after the plaint, "I can buy the ordinary food for three meals a day on my table allowance, but there are so many extras!" A woman of many years' experience, accustomed to working domestic miracles with an infinitesimal income, once said: "I would never have kept out of the poorhouse if I had not had a system. I make a list of the sundries without which no house is complete—soap, starch, flour, salt, etc.—and keep it under my eye. Each week I apportion so much money for my sundries and buy something. Thus I never find myself face to face with an empty salt box or vinegar jug at a time when there is no money to fill the lack."

Almond Meal.

Recipe for almond meal—orris root in fine powder, four ounces; wheat flour, four ounces; powdered white castile soap, one ounce; oil of bitter almonds, ten drops; oil of bergamot, two drops; tincture of musk, one fluid dram. Mix wet and pass through a sieve. This should be used on tender skins instead of soap. It is delightful.

The Increase of Lunacy.

Lord Rosebery in opening a lunatic asylum the other day said he found it extremely difficult to discover any convincing reason for the increase of lunacy, and he could only suggest that the asylums became fuller because it was impossible for people with slow moving brains to keep pace with the times in which we lived.—London Spectator.
